

For All the Tea in Zhōngguó

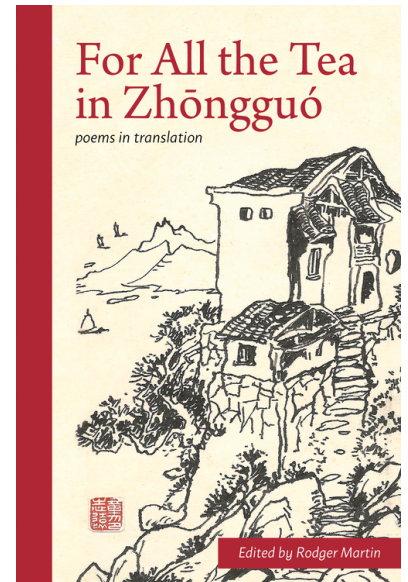

a dual language reading

Saturday, November 16, 2019
2:00 pm @ the Worcester PopUp
20 Franklin Street, Worcester

Rodger Martin and Ann Shi will read poems from Martin's latest volume, "For All the Tea in Zhōngguó." The book has, in two parts, Rodger's poems which have been published in China over the past three decades, and Chinese New Pastoral poets who he has collaborated with and published in the U.S. over the same period.

Martin will read poems in English and Shi will read poems in Mandarin.

Sponsored by the Worcester County Poetry Association (worcestercountypoetry.org) and the Worcester PopUp (worcesterpopup.org). #MakeArtEverywhere #WorcesterCulturalCoalition #TheWorcesterPopUp

"The Worcester PopUp is a creative co-working space of the Worcester Cultural Coalition in partnership with The Barr Foundation. This event is not sponsored by, nor does it necessarily reflect the views of the Worcester Cultural Coalition."